

Dear BOS,

I understand the importance of the portal; having a completed application and processing these applications in a timely manner is a necessity. I would just like to express my concern about closing the portal after only 90 days. It would be one thing to expect a primary submission, but if "one signature" is missing, I find it problematic to consider it incomplete and therefore deny the permit if there is not time for re-submission.

Considering the very low submission rate, I think an extension is prudent.

With Respect,

Lisa Lai
