Service includes reasonable disposable field supplies as required by Agency.

Self-Pay Offender Services: Monthly, during the Term, Agency may designate clients as "Self-Pay Offenders" and provide BI with a correct client mailing address and other information to enable BI to invoice such client for his/her individual monitoring cost during the month. BI can bill for the full, contractual agency daily rate or some other daily rate, designated for each offender. At the end of each month, BI will invoice Agency for all monitoring services provided for all clients during the month. BI will also invoice each individual Self-Pay Offender for his/her own monitoring costs. The Self-Pay Offender invoice will include the current monthly charges as well as any balance due. BI will accept money orders, cashiers' checks, and credit card payments from Self-Pay Offenders. BI will not accept personal checks. BI will track Self-Pay Offender balances. Any collections received in a month from Self-Pay Offenders will be applied as a credit to reduce the amount of the Agency invoice in the same month. Agency is responsible for remitting to BI any balance due on the invoice within payment terms set forth in the Agreement. BI will include a roster with each Agency invoice detailing the Self-Pay Offender charges, payments, and balances due. This will allow the Agency to reconcile the individual payments received to the Agency invoice and to take action, if desired, for clients that do not make payments. BI will continue to bill clients who have an outstanding balance due but are no longer being actively monitored while they are making payments. Inactive clients who stop making payments will be archived after 90 days and no longer appear on the monthly roster. If the client resumes making payments, then monthly billing will resume and these clients will be added back to the roster. Clients may make payments via an online portal at any time of day without needing to contact BI staff. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, Agency is fully responsible and liable for all amounts due under this Agreement, including any amounts not paid by Self-Pay Offenders.

F. BI SMARTLINK®

BI SmartLINK is a Software Application designed to be installed on a Client's mobile device. It provides clients with supervision- related tools such as a calendar and access to community resource information. Clients can also be required to use the application's check-in capability to verify identity and location through fixed or random check-ins using biometric technology. The application's self report module allows clients to periodically report their status. The application's modular design allows officers to control what functionality and information is delivered to the Client's mobile device from within BI TotalAccess®.

Requirements: Apple iOS or Android (Operating System powered) smartphone.
