

I am Ronald S. Lippert...

I have lived in this great County of Mendocino for over twenty years...I own land in Mendocino County in the 3rd district which is range land along the Eel River and I am against any big grows!...Bio-diversity is significantly better than doing a mono crop...Local, organic and sustainable should always be the goal...We have a drought with more fire dangers coming and more wildlife corridors potentially becoming ruined and the future will always be in nature as that can not be successfully be created in our lifetime as that needs to be protected while we can...Water is King and is needed for all life...

Think about Henry David Thoreau or Roger Tory Peterson or Tecumseh...

Sincerely,

Ronald S. Lippert

Former Inspector for Animal Welfare for the USDA under APHIS under the Carter Administration...
