

I live in Willits and I am very concerned that Liz Barney's contract as social media manager for the sheriff's office is up for renewal.

I have read the posts that Ms. Barney "echoed" (Parler's version of a retweet), and also Liz's defense of those posts and I am very much opposed to her continuing as social media manager.

She claims that she didn't notice that she was "echoing" multiple violent and racist posts. The idea that a social media expert didn't notice for example that she was echoing a post with "Where is Mossad when you really need them?" above a link to an article criticizing congresswoman Rashida Tlaib, really strains my credulity.

If you have any questions for me, or know any information I may be missing, I'm happy to discuss more.

Thank you for your time,
