Ron,

Thank you for your inquiry. Franwell is very excited and fortunate to be able to work with the State of California and its Licensees. We will have information in the coming weeks and months about the California program; however, it is very early in the process for us. As such, we do not have any specific information to provide. For now, please visit the CDFA website for all information available at this point.

In the future, you can expect to have a California webpage available at www.metrc.com for program specific information.

We are looking forward to working with you!

Sincerely,

The Metrc Support Team

Ron said that he was just calling to verify that it was true that Metrc had been awarded the "track and trace" contract for California. He only saw the information on one website, and didn't know if it was true or not.
