History & Background

My father and his good friends purchased Perry Gulch Ranch in 1968. The ranch is a 1,200 acre timberland property, formerly owned by Albion Lumber Company, located in Navarro. I spent many weekends and summers there while in high school, working, fishing, hunting and swimming. Summers during college I worked and lived on the ranch. The ranch played a big part towards shaping my future and my interest in forestry. Currently, I am the managing partner and forester for Perry Gulch Ranch. We have 3 generations of the same, original families who own this ranch. It is a very special place for myself and the other owners.

I am a 66 year old married man. I have been a full time resident of Anderson Valley, Mendocino County since 1973, owning and operating my forestry consulting business since 1985, which is located in Boonville, Mendocino County. I have also performed extensive consulting and forestry work in Sonoma and Humboldt County. I manage and am the winemaker for a small vineyard north of Philo for an east coast client. The label is Harpe Ranch, a pinot noir, if you have had the opportunity to try it.
