

All - It was recently brought to my attention that Mendocino County no longer has a wildlife abatement program for problem animals. This is plain crazy! We live in a rural area with many animals that can pose threats to people, animals and property.

This is a picture of a large black bear who came over 4 fences, including electric fence, tore off the wall of my hen house and killed chickens. Twice.

How long until a person is harmed?

While I love wildlife generally, in a few instances some become threats. We need a program...which we used to have...to protect citizens, pets and property when that occurs.

Sincerely,

Mark T Boyer
