

I am writing to voice my opinion with regards to re-opening the personal care services with strict adherence to the COVID-19 Industry Guidance. I have been going to Skin Care By Wendy for a number of years. The owner, Wendy Daniels is a licensed esthetician and has always maintained sanitary conditions in her shop. She is a one person shop which allows ample time in between clients to properly sanitize and practice COVID regulations such as masks, gloves, eye protection and frequent hand washing. Wendy will only service her existing local clients she has worked with and knows have been following SIP guidelines. She will not take any new clients even if they are local. It is time we provide personal care services professionals guidelines to re-open.

Regards,
Sharon Davis