

To whom it may concern,

We have lived on this road at the same property (Caspar Orchard/Fern Creek Road) since 1972, that I purchased at that time. I have built my home and developed that property over the years. I have worked as a builder, wall paper hanger, fisherman over the years and currently am the owner and broker at Big River Realty in Mendocino.

I want to change the name of our road very much, which is known by both of the above names where both of these road converge. Since both names are used for homes out here our package deliveries and emergency service cannot find us. We are hoping that having one clear name status for the road that continues beyond where Fern Creek Road and Caspar Orchard Road meet will solve out this dangerous and inconvenient problem. We find that it will be worth the laborious process of changing our address.

The neighborhood went through a name voting process with the result going to the name Casparado Way. New sequential numbers and a road sign with the new name will go a long way to help emergency staff find us.

Thank you,
David Coddington
