

The idea that money made by corporate weed could be more important than water for people is seriously wrong minded.

The action to add more weed before there is a real working system in place is wrong minded.

Nothing can stay alive without water. All over the world, people are inventing ways to gather and preserve water.

Look at the state of Lake Mendocino. Listen to the people who have corporate weed growing in their neighborhoods and the wells going dry.

The big money making endeavors need to be responsible for innovations in water manifesting and management instead of being given free reign to take our community water.

As the only governing body for our beautiful county, you have a responsibility to be sure our water supply is preserved for PEOPLE.

This is my belief.

Please put down the expansion of weed acreage until the problems with water are addressed.

Sincerely, Lisa Sacks
Laytonville, Ca 95454