

Hello,

As a Rhodes Scholar studying Zoology at the University of Oxford, and as a wildlife-loving conservation scientist, I am writing to affirm that there are times when lethal control is a necessary tool and to remove it as an option can cause great harm for biodiversity.

lease do not suspend the contract we need there support keeping the animals that become pests out of our businesses in rural Mendocino. No one wants a skunk smell in their Tasting Rooms, Restuarants, Inns, or their houses. We need their support.
