

Hello,

Hello,

I support the actions of the current USDA wildlife services program. After reading the attached comments from citizens that would like to see an end to this program the common theme seems to be a push towards a non-lethal approach. I believe that the USDA wildlife services make every attempt to utilize the non-lethal option but are at times faced with difficult situations that truly require a lethal method of take. Unregulated animal control will lead to many negative issues and potential harm to the residents of this county. I believe the wildlife services program should open a dialogue with the concerned citizens as a way to educate them on the dangers surrounding unregulated animal control. Simply terminating this USDA wildlife program and transitioning to the proposed county run program would appear to be a move to satisfy those with the loudest voice, lacking any realistic approach to properly dealing with animal control. I appreciate your time.
