

Good afternoon, following the local news about allowing the expansion of cannabis grow that base on 10% cap of ten acres or more on Ag land and range land it's ridiculous just like shooting our self in the foot!

The Idea of bringing more job that's totally a illusion. In fact there are a lot of illegal cannabis farms popping up here and there in this county.

What happened with those people who applied for permit and never followed through and still growing a lot of cannabis and selling them illegally and they don't pay taxes like other small grower who are licensed and work hard to stay in compliance and following the regulations. My point here is why doesn't the county follow up with those people who are applied for the phase 1 and 2.

Best, concerns good citizens

Sent from my iPhone