

Dear Mendocino County Board of Supervisors,

We are living in times that more than ever demand that we work for a sustainable future rather than throwing ourselves open, as the currently proposed Cannabis Land Use Ordinance does, to another cycle of "boom and bust." The BOS is not listening to its constituents or you would have already given this nonsense up. Are you listening to well bankrolled out of County corporate agribusiness interests? Remember, if they make a lot of money here, then most it will leave our County unlike the small legacy growers that built our cannabis economy and spend their profits locally. Are you listening to the Planning Department which has either from ineptitude or unwillingness totally failed to implement our current ordinance? We don't need a new ordinance we need implemented and enforced the ordinance that we already have and spent years developing.

Sincerely,

Kirk Lumpkin and Lyn Talkovsky
