

They don't know what they are doing and it's wasting all of our time.

Please keep it open until all submitted applications have been properly processed.

I'm happy to give you a long list of errors including having one planner make me change my three pages of structures lists then having the next reviewer make me change it back.

Kristin thankfully stepped in that time because wow.