

To: Mendocino County Supervisors, and Health Officer
Dr. Andrew Coren, MD,

Subject: COVID-19 Update, item 5a 11-9-2021

I have read Dr. Coren's COVID-19 Update and feel compelled to comment about the need to vaccinate children 5-11 years of age.

Citing "grave errors" in a CDC study published in April 2021 in The New England Journal of Medicine, two New Zealand researchers Simon Thornley, Ph.D., and Aleisha Brock, Ph.D., are calling for an immediate halt to COVID mRNA vaccination of children and pregnant women.

These researchers argue that "the sweeping conclusions of safety" are not convincing, given the CDC study's limitation. They suggest the immediate withdrawal of mRNA vaccine used in "pregnancy and breastfeeding" along with the withdrawal of mRNA to children or those of child-bearing age in the general population."

On September 13th 2021, the four Chief Medical Officer's (CMO's) of the United Kingdom advised the UK

Government to offer the Pfizer Covid-19 vaccine vaccine to all children over the age of twelve.

This was despite the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation (JCVI) previously stating they could not support universal vaccination of children.

Is it just a coincidence that deaths among children have since increased by 62% against the five-year-average?

Mendocino Count adopted the Precautionary Principle Policy on June 27, 2006. Before we as a County embrace the idea to have all 5 to 11 year old children vaccinated I am asking all of you to read the 4 page Policy and ask yourself if you were the father or the mother of a 5 year old how you felt about having your little child vaccinated with a vaccine that has not been thoroughly tested on little children. Ask yourself if it is just a coincidence that deaths among children have since increased in New Zealand by 62% against the five-year-average?

Every early childhood educator knows that it is important to keep in mind when dealing with little children that everything needs to be age appropriate and developmentally appropriate. Giving these children simply a smaller dose than adults receive is not necessarily going to be the solution in all cases.

It would be good that we as a County wait until more research has been done before we start jabbing little children.

Last week, the City fathers in the northern California town of Oroville declared Oroville its own "constitutional republic" independent of federal and state governments. The resolution, which was approved Tuesday by the Oroville City Council by a 6-1 vote, declares the town a "Constitutional Republic City," a designation it says enables the city to declare state and federal government orders it considers "unconstitutional" null and void. The move is largely in response to COVID-19-related restrictions and vaccine mandates, particularly those imposed by California Governor Gavin Newsom.
