

Dear Mendocino County Supervisors

I support the resolution to request the state and governor to re-evaluate the current management focus at JDSF to one that utilizes current climate goals and climate science as a guide. JDSF seems to be stuck in an out-dated research goal; how to maximize commercial profit from logging a redwood forest. Believe me, the private land owners that own the vast majority of California's coastal redwood forest have already figured out how to take as much board feet without being thrown in jail.

We should request that JDSF, a publicly-owned forest, be guided by current science which further investigates the redwood forest for carbon sequestration - the governor's 30X30 conservation targets have already focused on OLD redwood forests as being unique in their ability to store carbon.

Please add my support for this resolution.
