

'But I don't use drugs...'

Neither do 4 out of 5 people who carry Narcan. Here's why it still matters:

Accidental exposures happen.

Kids, seniors, pets — all can accidentally ingest a pill. It takes just one to cause a crisis.

Pain meds are opioids.

Grandma's post-surgery meds, your friend's back pain prescription, or a forgotten pill in a cabinet — all can be risky.

Fentanyl is everywhere.

It's showing up in counterfeit pills and drugs people don't expect it in — even some stimulants and party drugs.

You might be a bystander.

You could be at work, in a parking lot, at a ballgame, or at church when someone nearby overdoses. Having Narcan could save a life while 911 is on the way.
