Interests & Experiences

Special Expertise, Experience, or Interest in This Area?

I have proudly called Gualala home for the past two years, and while I'm still relatively new, my California roots and lifelong connection to small, nature-centered communities make this place feel familiar. Choosing to raise my daughter here—and becoming involved in her school community—has deepened my desire to be part of shaping Gualala's future in a positive way. My background includes more than 20 years of leadership experience in hospitality and sales, which has taught me how to stay organized, communicate clearly, listen to different perspectives, and bring people together to solve problems. In my current role as a Multi-Property Sales Manager, I work with a wide range of stakeholders and often find myself navigating decisions that require balance, collaboration, and long-term thinking—skills that translate naturally into community service. What matters most to me here in Gualala is supporting thoughtful growth, strengthening local businesses, and protecting the natural environment that makes this place so special. I care deeply about environmental stewardship and want to help ensure that any development is both responsible and aligned with our coastal community's needs and values. Outside of work, you can usually find me cooking, hiking, or spending time with my family. Being involved in my daughter's school and building relationships with other parents has made me appreciate how much this community relies on people stepping up, working together, and caring about one another. That's the kind of community I want to help support.
